Our Mission Continues On....

First of all, Heaven Can Wait would like to thank our friends in the community! Because of the continued support from N.E. Ohio animal lovers and supporters of Heaven Can Wait, we have been able to not only continue in our mission to save animals from imminent death at The Summit County Animal Control Facility, but we have been able to rescue more than ever!

Heaven Can Wait was the featured story in Connie Bloom's article in The Akron Beacon Journal Sept. 16. Thank you to not only Connie, but to our newest members of Heaven Can Wait, but to our continued friends as well. Didn't get a chance to see the wonderful story? You can read it online at www.heaven-can-wait.com We look forward to continuing in our mission to rescue those in greatest need and strengthen our relationship with the community!

Little Orphan Annie Has Wrapped Us Around Her Little Paw

"Tomorrow! Tomorrow! I love you tomorrow...." Those are the words we heard from one of our newest rescues smiling face! Meet Little Orphan Annie, a sweet little black lab mix puppy. Annie was rescued from The Summit County Animal Control Facility in September when one of our volunteers saw how sad and pathetic this little ray of sunshine looked. Annie was a shaking and shivering mess in the main dog kennel, all 5 lbs of her! She was full of fleas, feces, and worms. After a warm bath, flea treatment, continued wormings, quarantine period, and vaccinations, Annie is now the ray of sunshine she was meant to be! She knew what tomorrow brought to her after her rescue by HCW. Will you be her tomorrow and forever? Apply for Annie today, not tomorrow!

I Want to Celebrate the Holidays with My New Family!

Meow, Meow, Meow! That's is what you will hear if you are the lucky new parent of Ava. Miss Ava came to us severely emaciated with an upper respirator from the county facility. She is slowly gaining weight, but she cares more about the attention she receives! Ava loves everyone and everything! She wants a family so bad, she has made that her Christmas wish. Could it be you? Do you have room under the Christmas tree for Ava to take naps and be thankful for her forever home?"

Tired little beagle puppy looking for home that will allow me to sleep, eat, go potty, get some attention, then go back to sleep! I am one of Soffee's puppies looking for my new home. Did I tell you I am cute? Well I am, at least that's what people tell my Mommy and truth is, I like to look at myself in the mirror just to make sure I am still cute everyday. Do you want a cute puppy? Could you handle people telling you how cute your dog is? If so apply for me or my siblings! My mommy is very pretty too!

I May Not Have Found My Prince, but I Found My Mommy!

Snow White aka Eden aka Edie reporting back to foster mom on my first night at my new home. Well, my new mom says I should have come with a warning that when I don't sleep, she's not allowed to sleep either. But there was too much to do to even think about sleeping. I've hardly stopped moving since I got here! I didn't want to hide under the bed all night so after pretending to be scared for a few minutes, I came out and started exploring (meaning I zoomed around the apartment at top speed for about eight hours).

New Mom has this huge, fantastic tile floor that I slide the whole length of when I'm chasing my jingle balls. There are fish to watch in the aquarium and my chair (yes! I get a whole chair to myself and it even has a blanket just for me!) is close enough that I can see the fish from it. And I know there is another kitty that looks just like me inside that closet, but every time I go in to find her, she disappears (Mom says they are mirrors, but it looks a lot like me).

Sometimes I get lost when I'm in a different room from Mom and then I cry for her, but as soon as she says my name, I come running to her to get my head scratched. I was trying to go potty in Mom's bathtub, but she found me and reminded me where my litter box is so I went like the good girl that I am. She calls me Eden because she says it means delightful and that's just what I am. Well, I'm going to go back to sunbathing and watching squirrels from my window. Miss you, but things seem to be pretty nice around here so I think I'm gonna stick around for awhile.
